The Top Ten

1 Millennium Force - Cedar Point USA

Vote

It's pretty much unarguable. Not only is this Gigacoaster 310 feet tall, and 93 mph fast, but its' revolutionary! It may not have inversions, but every single drop and turn is smooth, and the view from the top of the lift hill is simply beautiful. - GEMINI-42

Best ride in the park and country by far. Nothing can beat the speed and layout of the ride. Every turn and hill on the ride is a great experience and just adds to the excitement of the ride. The speed never slows down until the very end. Speed and excitement makes for a great ride and Millennium has both. I'm so lucky to only have to drive an hour to ride this ride! I make sure I get on this every time I go.

Wow... This coaster is amazing. One time, I stuck at the VERY top of the first hill, and I almost PEED MY PANTS LIKE A LITTLE BABY! Was it worth it, yes, very much worth the almost peeing experience.

Waaay too overrated - Poseidon

2 El Toro - Six Flags Great Adventure USA

Vote

Millennium is amazing, but it is not very intense. I'll give up a little height and speed if it's for an airtime buffet as seen on El Toro!

As much as I love El Toro, Nitro is my favorite six flags coaster. I'm surprised it's below space mountain

A true wooden coaster. The largest, and a true thrill from start to finish. - madox

Intense ejector airtime, impressive layout, and a seventy six degree drop - what more could you ask for?! Even if MF is currently #1, Toro is easily the best woodie around at the moment (7/28/18); it deserves its high ranking.

3 Intimidator 305 - Kings Dominion USA

Vote

The g-forces are in fact so high that people were blacking out (I actually blacked out the second time I rode it)! But it's still an amazingly revolutionary ride. This 305-foot Gigacoaster marked a new era in the coaster world. - GEMINI-42

My favorite coaster (although Fury 325 is a close second). The height, the speed, the turns and the airtime make this my #1.

Best ride ever. You can see like half of Virginia from the top

Never ridden, but looks awesome

Maverick is no doubt the best coaster in the world. Your probably looking at the stats like: 105 feet? That is pathetic!, Cedar Point wanted to prove bigger is not always better, and boy they did. Maverick has no doubt the best element combonation on any rollercoaster. Maverick starts off with a VERY fast lift to the top, dropping you BEYOND vertical at 95 degrees!, next Maverick takes you threw very intense twisty turns, then an EJECTOR airtime hill of awesomeness!, then two twisted horseshoe rolls, that are very rare, next you stop into a 400ft long tunnel and launched at 70mph! Out of the tunnel, you come into a large turn and then followed by an S-Curve, after that two intense 92 degree overbanked turns, an airtime hill and finish! All Millennium Force has is a gigantic drop and speed, it has little to NO airtime whatsoever, long boring overbanked turns. don't get me wrong I LOVE Millennium Force, it just doesn't deserve one, Maverick does.

Best ride ever. I'm a huge fan of launch coasters and this one is crazy. It has a bunch of airtime. And it's inversions are amazing. Better than millennium force. Yeah I said it.

Maverick is the best roller coaster in the entire world! No, I'm not just a Cedar Point fanboy, because if I was, I would be voting for Millennium.

It's not very tall, but it's very Extreme! Lots of sharp twists and turns, along with drops and EJECTOR airtime hills! The first drop is 95 degrees, so this roller coaster deserves a round of applause - madox

For years upon years, this wooden classic has been voted the best coaster of it's kind. It's one of rides that doesn't need too much of a resin to be great - it's just overall fun and exciting! - GEMINI-42

It is literally ranked No.1 among all roller coasters. I mean, who can forget the GIGANTIC drop at the beginning - Godisawesome1

One of the best wooden coasters ever. The airtime is extreme. - madox

Kingda Ka - Six Flags Great Adventure USA

Vote

+5

I'll bet 90 percent of these guys have either never rode it, or never rode top thrill dragster. Kingda Ka has shoulder restraints. Top Thrill gives you a better experience because it feels like you are flying and Kingda Ka feels like you are stuck to the seat. Top thrill is also the original. Can't beat it

The best part of the ride is just waiting to go. You sit on this launch pad, staring at this long track leading up to a huge tower. The anticipation is even greater in the front car. The launch is just plain sick.

It is insane because it is the highest and you launch 452 feet straight up. and then you go down with a twist along the way

I had my last words planned when waiting to go. The ride went so fast I forgot to say them on the way down. - FloofyDoof

8 Skyrush - Hersheypark

Vote

WHO put this on the list?! This ride is a real shoulder killer. The restraints cut into your shoulders and you develop bruises and aches. It ruins the fun. Who ever put this here must love getting shoulders smashed.

EASILY the best coaster I have ever ridden. Never a dull moment and so much airtime. Hersheypark in general has such a good coaster collection

9 Leviathan - Canada's Wonderland

Vote

Such a big drop at 306 feet! Not just one of the tallest but also fastest rides in the world! This ride is packed with airtime and crazy turns! This is one of those roller coasters that will make you have your hands in the air the whole time! Did I mention that the ride is also the tallest and fastest ride in CANADA!

This ride is fun but pales in comparison to Fury 325, Intimidator 305, and Millennium Force

11 Apollo's Chariot - Busch Gardens Williamsburg USA

Vote

I went on this ride with a friend who said not to freak out just scream on the first two hills! It was my first time on a big roller coaster and it was great! Perfect for a first try on bug coasters.

Best ride ever! I think I'm in love with B&M hyper coasters. The drop is awesome, the airtime is great, and the trains are insanely comfortable. Before this one my favorite was the Diamondback at Kings Island, but now I see the true king is Apollo's Chariot. Seriously a must ride!

Of all the coasters I've ridden Apollo's Chariot made me fall in love with airtime. - chad.brown.3551

Although the stats aren't super impressive this ride packs a punch. At 67 mph it is the fastest in Orlando, and certainly the best. Its loud roar, mammoth inversions and crazy launch all make this ride on of the best in the world. And the theming rocks too

X2 - Six Flags Magic Mountain USA

Vote

I love this ride. I am 12 years old and I have been on about every ride on this list and I have to say this is definitely one of my favorites. Your seats turn as your going down the ride. I also love the speakers that are attached to the carts. And I love how comfortable the seats are and the way the ride holds you in. Also this ride is so scary to the people who don't ride it but if you ride it you will see it's not scary. Also I live in Nevada and I go to Six Flags Magic Mountain and Universal Orlando every year and I love the rides there so much.

This isn't just a roller coaster. It's an invention. There are very few 4th dimension coasters in the world, and this is probably the greatest of them. By the way, a 4th dimension coaster is a ride in which the seats run on the side of the track, and they can spin on a horizontal axis. - GEMINI-42

Six Flags basically just took the "extreme" factor and just ran with it. This is one mindless design for a rollercoaster and it's incredibly nerve-wracking. - Mcgillacuddy

SUPER Thrilling! It's Sooo fun, it's done in such a way that even after riding it once, you can't always prepare the 2nd time.

It's not the fastest like others, but it's amongst the most thrilling. - madox

“I waited 2 hours in line for this thing. It was worth every second of the wait. That's honestly the only bad thing about it: it always has an insane wait time. It's tall (205 feet), fast (74 MPH), amazing first drop (200 feet, 90 degrees), and really long (5,740 feet). Seriously, I would've waited an extra hour for this thing. 34 Top Thrill Dragster - Cedar Point USA

Vote

Top Thrill Dragster @ Cedar Point (Sandusky, OH) - The world's first full-circuit Stratacoaster, which is a roller coaster to active a height of over 400 feet! Not only is this 420-foot monster the 2nd tallest coaster on earth, it's the 3rd fastest - launching you from 0-120 mph in less than 4 seconds!

Kingda Ka @ Six Flags Great Adventure (Jackson, NJ) - It may not be there original like Top Thrill Dragster, but Kingda Ka deserves to tie with it because it's the tallest coaster on ever (456 feet), and the 2nd fastest (0-128 mph launch in 3 seconds). It's also a longer ride than Top Thrill Dragster. - GEMINI-42

At 427 feet tall, with a max speed of 120 mph, riding this coaster could very well be the best 17 seconds of your life.
